

International
Microsimulation
Association

Journal ISSN: 1747-5864

www.microsimulation.org/ijm

The International Journal of Microsimulation (IJM)

The International Journal of Microsimulation (IJM) is the official online peer-reviewed journal of the International Microsimulation Association.

The IJM covers research in all aspects of microsimulation modelling. It publishes high quality contributions making use of microsimulations to address specific research questions in all scientific areas, as well as methodological and technical issues.

The IJM welcomes contributions of research articles, short research notes, data watch notes, book reviews, and software reviews. See the journal website for further details.

Editor: Matteo Richiardi, Institute for New Economic Thinking, Oxford, United Kingdom

Book Review Editor: Eveline van Leeuwen

Associate Editors: John Cockburn, Francesco Figari, Sophie Penneç, Azizur Rahman, Andrea Roventini, Deborah Schofield,
Venky Shankar, Sven Stöwhase, Gerlinde Verbist,
Sander van der Hoog, Jürgen Wiemers

Scientific Committee: Rolf Aaberge, Jakub Bijak, Francesco Billari, Ugo Colombino, John Creedy, André Decoster,
Gijs Dekkers, Lennart Flood, Cathal O'Donoghue,
Andreas Peichl, Nicole Saam, Holly Sutherland,
Leigh Tesfatsion, Michael Wolfson